Evacuees View Carla, Others

A Staff Feature

"A Tale of Two Cities -- West Columbia, located in Brazoria County and Texas City, bordertown on the Texas Gulf Coast.

Both of these cities have a long record of storm fatalities, sea coast floodings and mass evacuations.

A West Columbia citizen for most of his life, William Monroe Wilson, refugee staying in Cameron, told The Herald of the hurricane of 1932.

"I don't know what I will have when I go back home this time," he said, "but I left once in 1932 and when I returned I was cleaned out. And this storm appears to be much worse than that one."

Wilson was forced to leave many members of his family behind, although his party included a car and pick up loaded to the hilt. He managed to save as many clothes as he thought this family would need and books his son would use

This column is dedicated to this week to the many people who made Cameron's contribution to caring for Carla's refugees.

People by the hundreds took evacuees into their homes.

Workers at Battetown Baptist Church, All Saints Episcopal Church, First Methodist Fellowship, Simon - George Hall, National Guard Armory plus hundreds of private home owners contributed their time, bedding, some food, televisions, magazines, rooms, and a welcome hand that only the evacuees could truly appreciate.

We will name some of the people who were cited for efforts at the First Methodist Hall. We know there were many more throughout the city.

Mrs. John Johnson, Milam home demonstration agent, was in charge of kitchen facilities at First Methodist Hall. She was assisted by:

City Hosts 1,500 Refugees

Area Efficient In Tough Role

By Frank M. Luecke

With hard work and compassion and dispatch, Cameron this week joined the ranks of hundreds of Texas cities that bedded down refugees from Hurricane Carla.

There were no heroics nor sentimentality in handling the needs of some 1,500 South Texans. They needed help and got it. The whole of Cameron did the job.

As the hurricane evacuees return to the devastation left in Carla's wake, they will remember this story:

"Hurricane Carla is coming toward the Texas Gulf. People have been ordered out of the cities. The National Guard has been alerted."

This was the summary of the alert given to Capt. James T. Terry, commander of Company C, Milam's Guard unit. The word was passed on to County Judge Don G. Humble, Mayor Coleman Duncum, Rockdale Mayor L. C. Mehaffey and other community leaders.

It was early Sunday. Terry ordered segments of his unit on duty that morning. Humble got on the telephone.

SLEEP IN CARS

Refugees were coming further into Central Texas as inland towns southward filled up with people. Some spent Saturday night in cars parked along the highways. Many had no place to go. It was no wonder. A half million left the Coast since Friday.

Motels and hotels were full. Relatives arrived at many Cameron homes.

The first evacuees to reach Cam-ice directed them to private homes, the Guard Armory. Cameron was the hub of SH 36 and US 77 from the South.

Sleeping equipment was put up all around the Armory . . . extra beds were made up and guest rooms were opened in private homes. Hundreds volunteered assistance.

Still no Carla, just warnings as she rumbled uneasily in the Gulf. Refugees from Sweeny, Freeport, Alvin, Texas City, Brazoria, El Campo, Livingston, Bay City, Port Lavaca, Lolita, Edna, Gnado, Splendor, Bellville, West Columbia, Needville, Damon, even Houston began to watch TV reports on sets put up by townspeople in the Armory.

Food, not unlike Army chow, Spanish rice, spam, was the supper menu. Guardsmen changed shifts. "Probably about 500 or 600," estimated Mayor Duncum at City Hall . . . "No way of knowing how many." Humble said.

Cameron - 'Carla'

If The Herald's coverage of Hurricane Carla's effect in Cameron is enthusiastic, it is meant to be.

Four Herald staffers watched this city's leaders, her churches, her National Guard unit, her citizens move in unison for four days. Before them unfolded a story of unusual poignancy for a small town -- caring for hundreds, upward to 1,500 people who needed help and shelter.

It was a rewarding vigil, one this newspaper hopes is faithfully recorded here. It was a story reenacted throughout Central and East Texas. It was history amidst a precedent shattering exodus of people from this country's worst hurricane disaster.

erson stayed at motels Friday night. Others were housed in the Court-house Saturday.

By mid - day Sunday, dozens of people from dozens of Gulf Coast towns were finding their way to the Cameron Guard Armory. Hurricane Carla was still offshore, but they had left.

Calls went out to Red Cross State Headquarters, top officials of the Surplus Commodities program, to Fort Hood for cots and blankets, to area residents for bedding, magazines, bunks.

HIGHWAY JAMMED

As thousands of cars, station wagons, small trucks passed through Cameron, dozens and finally hundreds stopped off. Many were told to go on to cities further north and west, cities with larger facilities. Others stayed.

Caravans of evacuees, then single cars pulled into the city, Polimates totaled was the figure Monday morning. All the hotels, the motels were packed, housing about 300. The Armory had 150. Simon-George Hall estimated about 35.

Chamber Manager Jack DuBois said he personally placed 35 in private homes. Guard officials placed 225. And it was only guesswork to estimate the number that arrived unannounced to stay at homes of relatives.

Some residents stopped evacuees at local service stations, inviting them into their homes. Motel proprietors made calls to friends to ask for shelter for evacuees who were unable to find it.

Two hundred cots came in from Bastrop. Thirty more arrived from Temple.

But the plumbing became over-erloaded at the Armory. By mid-afternoon Monday about 100 were transferred to Methodist Fellowship Hall. Many stayed in the

City, Milam Damage Light

Carla's Winds, Rains Toss Tree Limbs, Soak Cotton

Compared to the Gulf Coast, damage in Milam County and Cameron was but a touch. Rains total ing 7.17 inches fell.

But Hurricane Carla's big winds did touch down in Milam fields, played havoc with telephone and electrical service and left Cameron with limited water re serves for a time Tuesday.

Officials at Soil Conservation and ASC offices in Cameron reported no great damage in north Milam County. Most corn and maize was already harvested.

One SCS man said cotton was dampened enough to close the bolls before the high 60 m. p. h. steady rains and wind were reported as Carla passed over Austin and headed for Dallas - Fort Worth.

FIELDS HARROWED

A Thorndale farmer, Richard Lehman, of Route 1, Thorndale, told The Herald that some of the fields "looked like a harrow had gone through them" in his area. Cotton was damaged, particularly late cotton.

Agriculture experts said that cotton losses in Central Texas would approximate $250,000 and downgrade most of the area's crop about $15 per bale and one grade below normal test.

Rains accompanying Carla put water in the sloughs along Little River, and sent Sandy Creek, Elm Creek and Brushy Creeks over their banks for a time.

Cameron was low on water reserves Tuesday morning when the transformer rack handling power for city water pumps collapsed.

City and Texas Power & Light workmen repaired the damage in a few hours. For a time, only water in the overhead tank in northwest Cameron was available for city use and pressure was low. Henry Siebman, district director of TP&L reported utility lines down throughout the city as tree limbs fell into them. Power failures were reported Tuesday in Sharp and Milano. Electricity service wavered a few times in Cameron, but the lights stayed on.

RURAL PHONES OUT

Telephone service in Cameron continued to function. About 100 rural telephones went out in the surrounding area Tuesday, but workmen had them back in service Wednesday.

A few lines went dead in the city, but they were soon back in

Victims Leave Armory

The National Guard Armory was lined with stacks of cots, blankets and other bedding Wednesday as refugees left to go back to their flooded homes.

A letter was typed by Miss Evelyn Davis of Houston and signed by the thirty - five families at the Armory Monday thanking the Guard and others for their help.

The letter was addressed to the local company. It read:

"We would like to thank this company for the many acts of kindness shown to the people of the Gulf Coast in our time of distress. Also to the Civil Defense for the food and the help shown. To the citizens special thanks for offering a place of lodging, food and clothing. THANKS AGAIN."

Most of the refugees helped Guardsmen prepare food, serve it and other duties. One Red Cross-trained lady, Mrs. Charles Brown, took over the job of running the kitchen when it was necessary. Two airmen, A3C Gary Poindexter and A3C Thomas Palmer, were visiting in the Gulf area and had to flee when the storm threatened. They assisted the guardsmen and the ladies in the kitchen.

Capt. James T. Terry and S-Sgt. Joe Lee Vybral expressed their thanks to the people of Cameron for their quick action in bringing clothes, bedding, cots and food to the Armory. Thanks too went to County Judge Don Humble in obtaining blankets and cots and to the local Guardsmen who volunteered their services for the 24-hour a day duty. Also appreciated were the people who placed families in their homes.

Sgt. Vybral stated that the unit is still on standby alert for possible duty in cleaning up the Gulf Coast area.

The local unit was scheduled to meet last Sunday and was dismissed except for volunteers to take care of the refugees. The drill

Capt. Terry stated that people who brought bedding and cots can pick them up at the National Guard Armory.

Area Aid Cited By Officials

Residents of Cameron and Milam County did this area proud during the past four days. Cameron alone housed, fed and kept informed some 1,500 evacuees from South Texas and Hurricane Carla.

It was the great outpouring of volunteers aid and assistance that made Cameron's handling of these refugees a success. Milam Countians joined in bringing help to those people staying in the National Guard Armory, Methodist Hall, Simon - George Hall and private homes.

Our appreciation goes out to all the people who responded to the call for help. We express the appreciation of those hundreds of people who by now have returned to their devastated homes and towns.

If ever this area earned the right to be known as "the friendly city", it was this week. Judge Humble and I found co-operation abundant among hundreds and perhaps thousands who provided food, bedding, lodging and many other items during the stay of Carla's victims.

In their behalf and ours, we say thanks.

TP&L Announces Transmission Line Extension

Work was progressing this week on the 345,000 volt electric transmission line extending from the Red River to Houston and being constructed by Texas Power & Light Company and three other major Texas investor - owned electric companies.

The engineering studies are nearly complete and surveying for the line is under way. W. W. Lynch, president of TP&L said. The three other companies are Dallas Power & Light Company, Texas Electric Service Company and Houston Lighting & Power Company.

The line will firmly link together 6,500,000 kilowatts of electric generating capability into one of the nation's largest and strongest reservoirs of power.

The four companies are jointly constructing the backbone of the line which will extend from Houston to the Dallas - Fort Worth area. TP&L will extend the line north to a new generating station TP&L is now constructing near Savoy, near the Red River and Texas Electric Service Company will construct an extension of the line into West Texas.

On a national basis by 1970, the investor - owned electric companies plan to spend nearly $8 billion for new electric power transmission facilities, Mr. Lynch said. The investment will more than double the present transmission facilities investment of $6-7 billion.

"Experience indicates that the bulk of the new transmission lines will be built by investor-owned companies like TP&L and they will be financed in a free market."

"With only about 1-16th of the world's population, our country now has about one - third of the world's power producing capacity," he said.

Concerning reports on Russian power progress, Mr. Lynch stated, "Although we have only about one-third of the area of the Soviet Union, we have about five times the miles of transmission lines the Russians have. In view of Russia's goal of 3,000 kilowatt hours of per capita production for 1970, it is difficult to see how Russia will catch up with us in the foreseeable future." He concluded that under the present program, this nation will be producing 7,500 kilowatt hours per capita within the decade.

WITH PARENTS' ADVICE...

College Expenses Can Be Managed

Off-to-college time often carries an overtone of financial concern, for both student and parent, particularly if it's the boy's or girl's first experience away from home, according to American Express.

College counselors say the size of a student's allowance has little to do with whether he or she has money difficulties at school.

More important is having a mature attitude in handling money.

Parents can help their children become both self-confident and sensible in money matters.

A little advance thinking on budgets, part-time work, allowances and emergencies should be a required course before school starts.

Sit down with your youngster for a frank discussion of expenses and what's to be done about them—entertainment, dating, snacks, club dues, sports, clothes, books and maybe a dozen other items.

Your child will probably get along fine once he knows what he'll have to spend.

Allowances—Regardless of the state of your family finances, and even in the well-off family, it is preferable to set a specific sum as the youngster's expense fund.

Budgets—Not necessarily fun, but they can help save lots of grief. Take a bit of time for a paper-and-pencil session with your child—show him how to make what he has spread over what he needs, how to cut one thing to allow for another.

Handling—Which is best: a lump sum to take along on leaving home? Or sending small weekly amounts? Monthly remittances? On request? Decide after talking it over, but make sure of safety. No one need risk losing expense money. Use travelers cheques, which serve a double purpose. First, youngsters can carry these loss-proof cheques instead of risky cash while en route to school and to have on campus. In case of loss or theft, they are promptly refunded or replaced. Second, when sending funds, regular or emergency, you can arrange with your local bank to have American Express deliver travelers cheques through its office nearest the college. Western Union will also transmit travelers cheques.

Part-time work—A tradition in American college life, today there is a trend toward part-time work in the student's field of interest. Your child may find work in a psychology lab, in market research, in travel sales, or any of the myriad of jobs that are part of today's college scene.

Savings—Advise your son or daughter to put aside some of his expense money in a bank account, accumulate it little by little, for some special purposes—or emergency.

Do-it-yourself—may be a budget stretcher. For example, your daughter, setting off for dormitory living, may need funds for room draperies, bedspread, vanity skirt, clothes. By making some of them herself she may be able to stretch her allowance.

Marine Recruiter Explains Duties

When it is considered that they're just average Americans, people often wonder why U. S. Marines are called this country's "Elite Military Force," both at home and abroad.

"The answer is training," says Marine Sergeant M. G. Barrow who sets up his recruiting office in the Post Office here in Cameron every second Thursday from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

"Marines are trained to perfection," Sgt. Barrow said, "so they can perform any kind of task, any place, at anytime on land, at sea or in the air."

As America's mobile force in readiness, the Marine Corps is prepared to strike offensively or defensively in any part of the world on a moments notice. It is no wonder the Marines hold "training" in

Yoemen Stage "Comeback" In Friday's Game

Bayer, Doskocil Score . . .

Fumbles Plague Yoemen

With just 45 seconds left to play, Yoeman halfback Amos Doskocil raced 15 yards around right end for a touchdown and then ran the ball over for the two extra points, giving Cameron a 14-14 tie with the Rosebud Black Panthers and clinching the most fumble plagued game Cameron fans have seen in years.

Playing before 2500 fans at Yoe High Stadium last Friday night, the two bitter rivals battled back and forth the entire second half with Cameron finally finding enough yardage to produce a tie ballgame against the underrated Panthers.

The first quarter of play saw the ball exchange hands 4 times on fumbles, 3 by the Yoemen. The final frame was another exhibition of fumbles, Rosebud losing the ball twice and Cameron once.

Quarterback Gene James and halfback Billy Pattillo and W. D. Swanzy kept Yoemen defenders off guard the first half with an 80 yard run around right end by Pattillo in the first quarter; and a 30 yard TD run around left end late in the second quarter.

The Yoemen broke the ice for the first time in the final period with a 2 yard plunge by Ernest Bayer that was good for six points.

The key Cameron drive came with a minute and a half left to play when Bayer found a pass receiver in David Walston and hit him for 22 yards bringing the Yoemen to the Rosebud 15 yardline. Doskocil raced around right end, eluding tacklers with his speedy side - stepping techniques, and crossed the goal before 2,500 near-delirious fans to put the Yoemen just 2 points back.

The 150 pound Junior carried again on the PAT play, going through the Rosebud line for 2 points, tying the game.

The Yoemen resorted to passes the second half with Bayer doing the tossing. Johnny Richter and David Walston were his main targets. Twice touchdown passes were dropped by Yoemen ends in the last two minutes of play while operating from the Rosebud 35 yardline.

Cameron's biggest break came when they gained control of the ball on their own 23 yardline and carried it to the 34 on an 8 yard toss to Richter, an 18 yard throw to Walston and a 30 yard pass to Thomas Leonard that was ruled complete due to Panther interference.

From there things appeared to be getting pretty rough as Bayer threw three incomplete passes, losing the ball on downs. Rosebud gained possession and fumbled on the first play from scrimmage giving Cameron the ball on the 28. Walston hauled in a 22 yard toss and Doskocil then went his 15 yards to paydirt.

Despite a sloppy first half of defence the Cameron squad tightened up and played a better brand of ball the second half; however, inexperience on behalf of several Yoemen was evident by the awkward display on end runs.

Bobby Hillman, Bayer, Mike Kornek, Bobby Jones, Doskocil and Stanley Kirk paced the Yoemen defenders. Rosebud's Willie Cortez, Lloyd Fabianke, and Raymond DeLeon led the Panther defenders.

PLAY BY PLAY

FIRST QUARTER
Cameron received the kickoff and Doskocil carried 3 consecutive times, to the Rosebud 40 yardline. Bayer went 11 yards for a first and Doskocil garnered 4 and 14 before fumbling the ball, Rosebud recovering.

W. D. Swanzy carried 3 times, to the Rosebud 20 yardline. Mike Pattillo broke loose and took full advantage of an awkward Yoemen defence, going 30 yards around right end for the night's first tally. James passed to Pattillo for the 2 extra points.

Bayer was thrown for a 2 yard loss following the kickoff and Cameron lost the ball on a fumble on the next play. Pattillo fumbled for Rosebud on their first play from scrimmage, Cameron recovering. Bayer picked up 8 but let go of the pigskin and Rosebud was in command again.

Six runs, one a 12 yarder by Pattillo and an 8 yarder by James brought the ball to the Cameron 20 where a pass missed and Bayer threw James for a 7 yard loss, giving Cameron the ball.

SECOND QUARTER

The Yoemen failed to make any headway and James Anderle punted the ball going 10 yards to the Cameron 45. Rosebud ran into a brick wall and James kicked 26 yards to the Cameron 15.

Cameron was forced to boot again on the 4th down, for 26 yards, to the 44 where Rosebud took the ball but fumbled on the runback. Cameron lost the ball on downs, setting the scene for the second Rosebud tally.

W. D. Swanzy got 8 and Lee Castilleja got 6. Pattillo broke loose again, this time around left end for 30 yards and 6 points. The extra point pass attempt failed.

Cameron gained control of the ball following the kickoff and Bayer led the Cameron attack the 28 yardline where they ran out of gas, ending the first half's play.

SECOND HALF

THIRD QUARTER

Rosebud took the kickoff and carried to the Cameron 7 yardline before losing on downs. In the drive process, Cameron was accessed 2, 15 yard penalties and disputes on the field Yoemen backer's tempers flared.

Doskocil contributed 54 yards to the Yoemen's drive into Panther territory. He gained 27, 15, and 22 yards at different times. Bayer was good for a 10 yard jog.

Rosebud punted out 33 yards on their 4th down and Cameron took control on their 40 yardline.

Bayer hit Johnny Richter for 2 passes, good for 9 and 23 yards, then placed the Yoemen in striking distance. The 23 yarder came in the 4th quarter.

FOURTH QUARTER

Following the 23 yard pass to Richter, Bayer carried twice to the 26 and then hit Walston for a 21 yard toss. Bayer went off right tackle standing up from 2 yards out for the touchdown. His attempt to run over the PAT failed.

Two more fumbles by Rosebud and one by Cameron kept the spectators wondering until the last 45 seconds of play when Bayer hit Walston again for a 22 yard pass, setting the scene for Doskocil's 15 TD jot and PAT run-over.

Cameron goal line stand took place on the 38 where the ball rested when the buzzer sounded, ending the game and four quarters of almost mass hysteria for 2,500 fans in the grandstands.

Yoemen B Team Edges Marlin In Thursday Play

The Fighting Yoemen B squad edged Marlin 8-6 in their first game of the season, played last Thursday night at Yoe High Stadium.

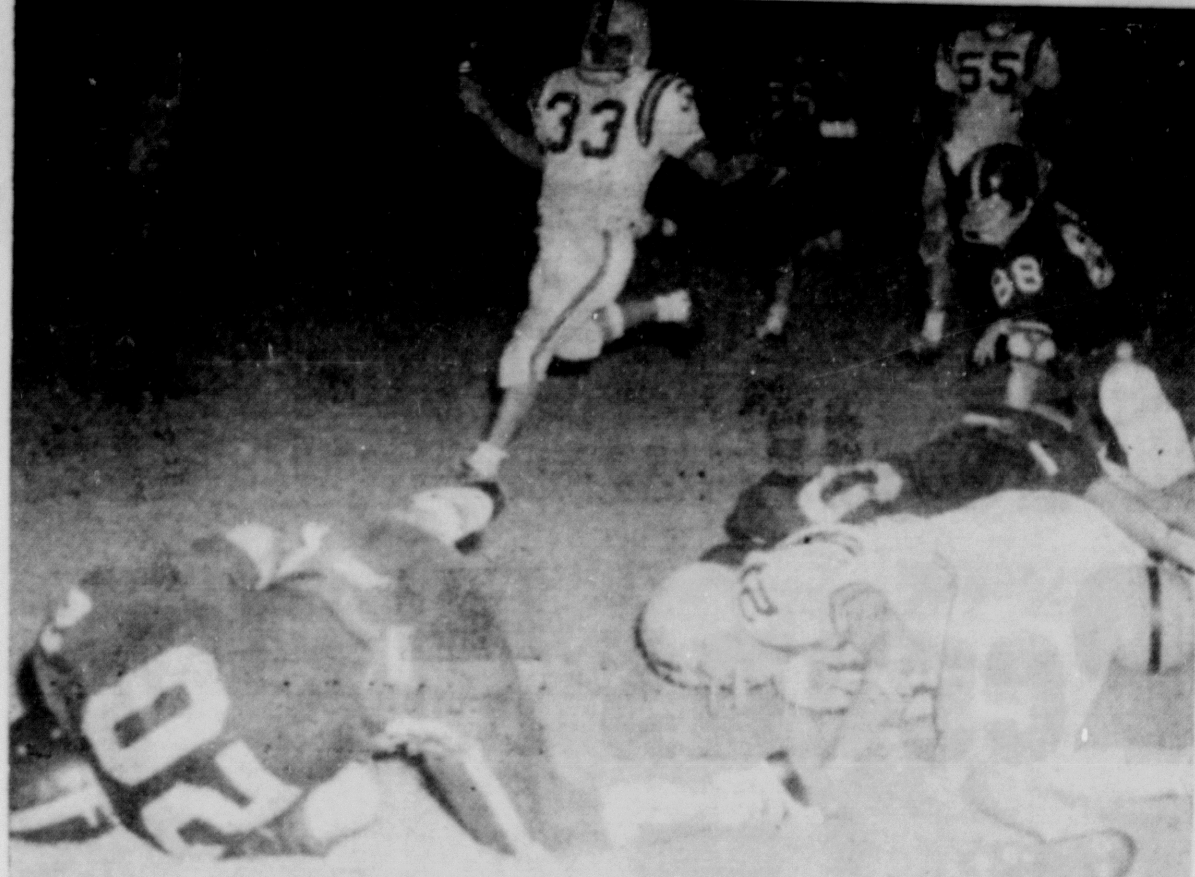

Dickie Ponder, freshman quarterback, tossed a 10 yard pass to end Merlin Lester early in the final period of play for the Yoemen's TD.

Senior halfback, Billy Owen, ran the ball over for the 2 extra points.

Marlin tallied minutes later on an 8 yard run off end. Their drive started when the kickoff was run back to the 50; a 28 yard pass put them in striking distance and a short plunge placed them 3 yards out.

The Yoemen received defensive stamina on behalf of Billy Owen. On offense he garnered over 160 yards and was responsible for several key blocks.

Judson Smith, Edmund Michalka and Frankie Dörner alternated with the pigskin when Owen wasn't carrying.

TRIPPED UP -- Mike Pattillo (21) of Rosebud makes a shoe-string tackle two yards short of the goal line on Yoemen 133 pound halfback David Walston (20). Coming up to assist Pattillo is D. Schmidt (40), and W. Cortez (33). Yoemen in the picture are Thomas Leonard (80), Johnny Richter (88) and Bob Dymke (66).

Rogers Defeated By Academy 14-8

Rogers fell by the wayside against the Academy Bumble Bees, 14 - 8, last Friday night.

Both teams went scoreless in the first quarter. Academy tallied in the final minutes of the first half on a 2 yard plunge by fullback Theron Jackson. He also counted for the two extra points.

Jimmy Cowan, 160 pound Eagle Quarterback, hit Maxie Morgan with a pass for the only Rogers TD. He repeated the play for the extra points.

The Bumble Bees scored again in the game's last two minutes on a 30 yard pass from James Hargrove to Don Marshall.

The Fighting Yoemen travel to Rogers tomorrow night to battle with the Rogers Eagles. The title will be the third of the year for both teams, and the first away from home for Cameron.

The Eagles will field a starting lineup that averages 156 pounds. Unusually enough, their backfield average will outweigh the line, 165 pounds to 160.

Cameron will stick with last week's lineup with the exception of Carroll Richter. Injured last week, information was not available at presstime on how much action he would see the rest of the year.

Quarterback Jimmy Woodum, suffering from a severe case of athlete's foot will once again be limited in action seen.

The Rogers backfield, one of the best in small Central - Texas towns, will be headed by 155 pound quarterback Jimmy Cowan. Ace Dyess, 185 right halfback, Brian Harbour, 160 left halfback, and Carl Foster, 170 pound freshman at fullback will make up the rest of the backfield.

Cameron's Game Highlights 19AA District Circle

The 19AA football circle was in full swing last Fridaynight; feature game of the week was Cameron's 14-14 tie against the Rosebud Black Panthers.

The Yoemen's 2 aces, Ernest Bayer and Amos Doskocil paced the Yoemen. Bayer scored from two yards out and Doskocil on a 15 yard run.

They received extra pep from David Walston, number one Yoemen pass receiver. Twice, he brought in passes off the arm of Bayer for key gains that set the scene for TD plays.

Hearne had a hayday, topping Navasota, 40 - 0.

Butch Reed opened their scoring on a 74 yard run in the first period. The PAT attempt failed. Simon Martinez tallied within a few minutes and then Robert Neff plunged four yards for the third first quarter touchdown.

O. B. Fowlers scored in the third period and Frank Baca wrapped it up with two touchdown runs.

Rockdale fell off the deep end of a 32 - 8 count against Elgin. Larry Larson, 175 pound quarterback averaged 13 yards a carry against the Tigers. Larson accounted for all but 8 of the Elgin scores.

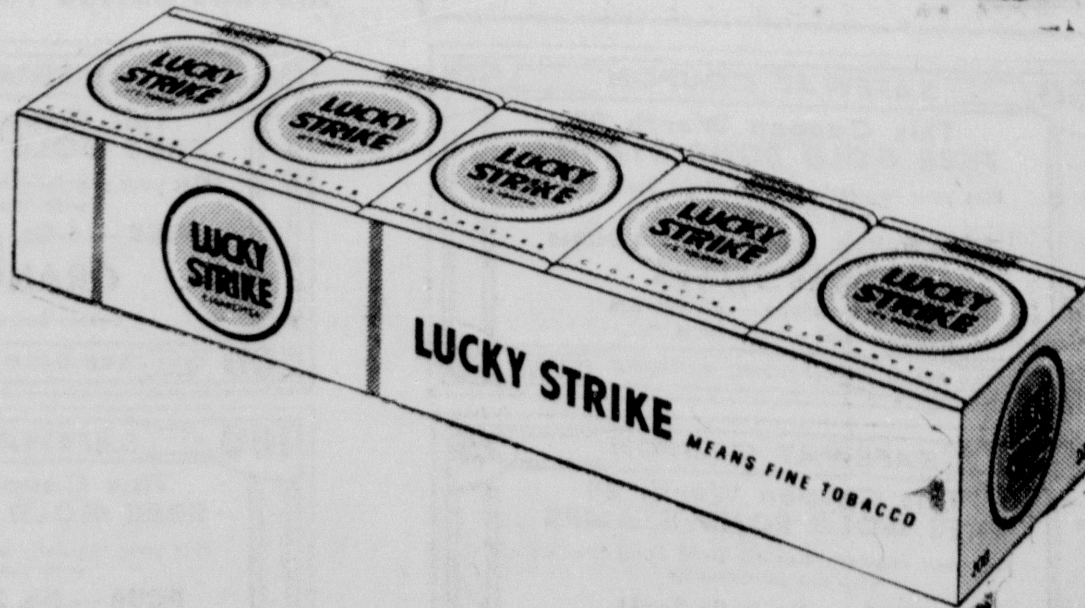

Rockdale chalked up their touchdown when Ronnie Menn hit Billy Pate with a 35 yard pass in the last 5 minutes of play. Menn carried over from the 3 on the scoring keeper play. Menn tossed to Pate for the two extra points.

CAMERON HERALD VIEW ON SPORTS

— WITH ROBERT MANN —

Stocky David Walston, valuable to the Yoemen in their first gridiron tilt as a "yard gaining scab-back" played a different role against Rosebud Friday night. That of a pass receiver.

After aiming for ends that couldn't hang onto the ball, quarterback Ernest Bayer tried tossing to Walston; the most valuable experiment of the night.

A stocky-built, 5'4", 130 pound senior, Walston hauled in two passes that set the scene for the Yoemen touchdowns.

Early in the 4th quarter Bayer hit Walston with a 21 yarder that placed the ball on the Rosebud two. Seconds later Bayer plunged across the two yardline and 6 points.

With 2 minutes left in the final frame Bayer again resorted to the air. After fruitlessly throwing to tall, lean, shold-be-pass-receivers, Bayer tried Walston again. This time for a 22 yard gain and bringing the ball to the 15, seconds later it was Doskocil that dashed around right end for the winning touchdown.

All in all, Walston played the best game of the night, with the exception of speed merchant, Doskocil and Bayer.

VOS

Talk about nerves! Who has any left after Friday night. Tempers flared, words flew and Coach Billy Bates got so excited that he almost sent himself in as a substitute. "That was the craziest and best halgame I've ever seen," exclaimed fans after the two hour ordeal.

Rosebud, definitely an underrated team; and Cameron, definitely an over - confident team both had their faces lifted by ten o'clock.

Rosebud will be given their full credit from now on and as 1st year it took a jolt to knock the Yoemen out of their Ivory Tower.

South Texas Mayor Cites Area Work For Homeless

The mayor of West Columbia, Texas, a community of about 4,500 people, called The Herald Wednesday and issued a special letter of thanks to the people of this area.

A former native of Milam County, O. W. Pond apparently expressed the appreciation of perhaps hundreds of people of his area who found refuge from Hurricane Carla in the Cameron area.

His wife, two daughters and 10 grandchildren stayed at the home of his sister, Mrs. D. M. Price of Cameron.

Here is his statement:

"As a representative of Brazoria County, I want to express thanks for the residents of West Columbia and Brazoria County for the sincere attitude and good neighbor policy in which the people of Cameron and Milam County received us as uninvited guests into their cities and into their homes."

"I was born and raised in Milam County. There is about 150 former Milam County residents who make their time in Brazoria County at present. We have oft time jokingly said: 'Milam County is a good place to be from.' But we sincerely say: 'It's a darn good place to come back to.'"

"Again, let me say 'thank you' from the depths of our hearts. And if you are ever down our way, you'll find the latch string hangs on the outside of the door."

O. W. Pond, Mayor
West Columbia, Texas.

AREA

Armory, fearing to leave the concrete and masonry building.

Some of these evacuees were proud people: They did not want to infringe upon Cameron's hospitality, they who had earlier dropped everything and drove off, they who brought no extra clothing, only their families and their cars and once in a while a pet dog.

RAINS START

It started to rain in Cameron Monday. Now the threat of Carla seemed real. People were settling down to a routine, in the homes, in the stores, in Methodist Hall and the Guard Armory.

Kids played ping - pong, volleyball, listened to records, danced a little. They were in good humor, almost in a holiday spirit. Perhaps there was no full understanding about the chaos to the south, even among the older ones.

Their parents and grandparents played checkers and talked and watched TV. Many people drove around town, as they did at first Sunday night. Highway service stations were crowded with cars with flats, bad generators, dead batteries. It was easy to see they had left Carla's wake in a hurry.

Milk was hard to find. One milk company found 1,000 half pints of milk in Bryan and brought it in. Cameron Coca - Cola donated Cokes; Cameron Lions gave coffee. Some grocery stores stayed open late Sunday night, ran out of bread and milk. Those closed passed it on to those open.

The needs of 25 per cent more than Cameron's 5,640 people increased demands when they were sometimes hard to fulfill.

LATE ARRIVALS

Monday afternoon, late arrivals from North Texas -- uninformed on the imminent disaster - and from South Texas evacuees from former evacuation centers at Schulerberg and Rosenberg - came in. A few dozen perhaps.

Evacuees pitched in at the Methodist Hall, helping their helpers wash dishes, clean up. One man at Guard Armory sat down at an Army typewriter and wrote a letter of appreciation to Guard members and Cameronites, voicing his thanks and at the same time the response of many hundreds like him. He gave the letter to Capt. Terry.

Some folks became restless. A number left late Tuesday for their South Texas homes. This was before South Texas was officially declared a disaster area and roads further south were closed. No one knows where they spent Tuesday night.

Monday night, Carla's winds, or what was left of them, came to Central Texas. Rains continued to fall, driven by 60 m. p. h. winds. There was less activity in the downtown area. There was more coffee drunk.

Tuesday the heavy wind and rains moved on. Evacuees did not want for something to eat, if they were in the Armory or at the Methodist Hall. Surplus commodity food, commodities authorized by Red Cross fed these people.

BUS LOAD ARRIVES

Negro evacuees came through, one group in a bus. They were directed to Maysfield, one observer said. Other were housed with Negro residents here.

Some Latin - Americans stayed at the courthouse. There were not many.

All in all, Milam Civil Defense machinery, untried except by newspaper publicity, worked. Hundreds of people were fed, informed and bedded down. Much of the success was due to the Guard Unit, busy around the clock from Saturday morning until the last refugee left, feeding, directing traffic, waiting duty turns.

Cameron city officials performed dutifully. Duncum was in City Hall long hours during early week. Chief Elvin Hoskins helped place dozens of people in homes.

The local contingent of State Highway Patrol operated at half strength. Trooper Jack Straley went to South Texas to assist there Sunday. Other troopers from the area, like the local guard unit, were awaiting movement orders to go into the Galveston - Port Arthur - Corpus Christi area for clean up and guard duty.

They would be ahead of most of the evacuees, except for the stalwart people in Galveston who trusted their seawalls enough to stay there. Five died at mid-week, not from Carla, but from one of her tornadoes.

YOUNG MOTHERS

There would be refugees like the young mother among the first to return. She had left her baby in an incubator in a South Texas hospital. Another young mother carried a six - day old baby in her arms.

A man's cattle was his reason for wanting to get back. For most, it was to see what had happened to their homes.

There were minor accidents, such as the little girl accidentally kicking out a door window at the Armory. It took five stitches to patch her up. There was nausea, from inertia or change in diet and water. But illness was minimum.

Guardsmen plotted Carla all the way from the Gulf past Austin. As soon as she cleared the Capital City, the more restless packed up. With care to thank Humble and other volunteer workers, they left. Some were expected back, if roads were blocked as reported.

500 IN ROCKDALE

Rockdale provided refuge for about 500 South Texans, according to Mayor Michaleff. They were placed in the VFW Hall, and churches, but no actual Civil Defense set up was used. It was on a volunteer basis. Most of Rockdale's refugees were waiting until an all clear before returning home.

Radio KMIL stayed on extra broadcast hours Sunday night, joining in the effort to invite evacuees into the Cameron area. Buckholts residents called in, offering assistance in food and lodging.

This small city's part in a major disaster was about over. The hundreds of millions in damage was yet to be cleaned up, though a dissipated Carla was somewhere in Missouri at prestime.

Cameron and Milam County faced problems too. There was the loss of cotton. But a fine story was written. It wrote itself.

PM

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tittsworth and daughter, Joan, of Hartsford Conn. were visiting recently with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tittsworth and their brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Tittsworth and family and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Tittsworth and family.

102 . . .

for Mayor Coleman Duncum, for the city staff which cleared streets of some fallen trees, for ministers of many Cameron churches, for the National Guard unit headed by Capt. James T. Terry. The Guard members worked as volunteers, not to be paid, for their efforts.

There were many others, hundreds if not thousands throughout North Milam County who gave something.

102 - 102 - 102

Perhaps the letter from the mayor of West Columbia, Texas, best rewards these people. It appears in a Page 1 story.

Perhaps most rewarding is the knowledge that at least 1,500 people are able to go back to their cities and town, even though the damage is astronomical. It is the record of assistance that made the mass evacuation possible to Central Texas. For Cameron was among those many towns who offered these people a place to go. If they had not left, well . . .

North Zone Hunters

Find Few Doves

AUSTIN —Dove hunters in the North Zone have found slim picking so far since opening of the season September 1, according to reports to J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator of the Game and Fish Commission.

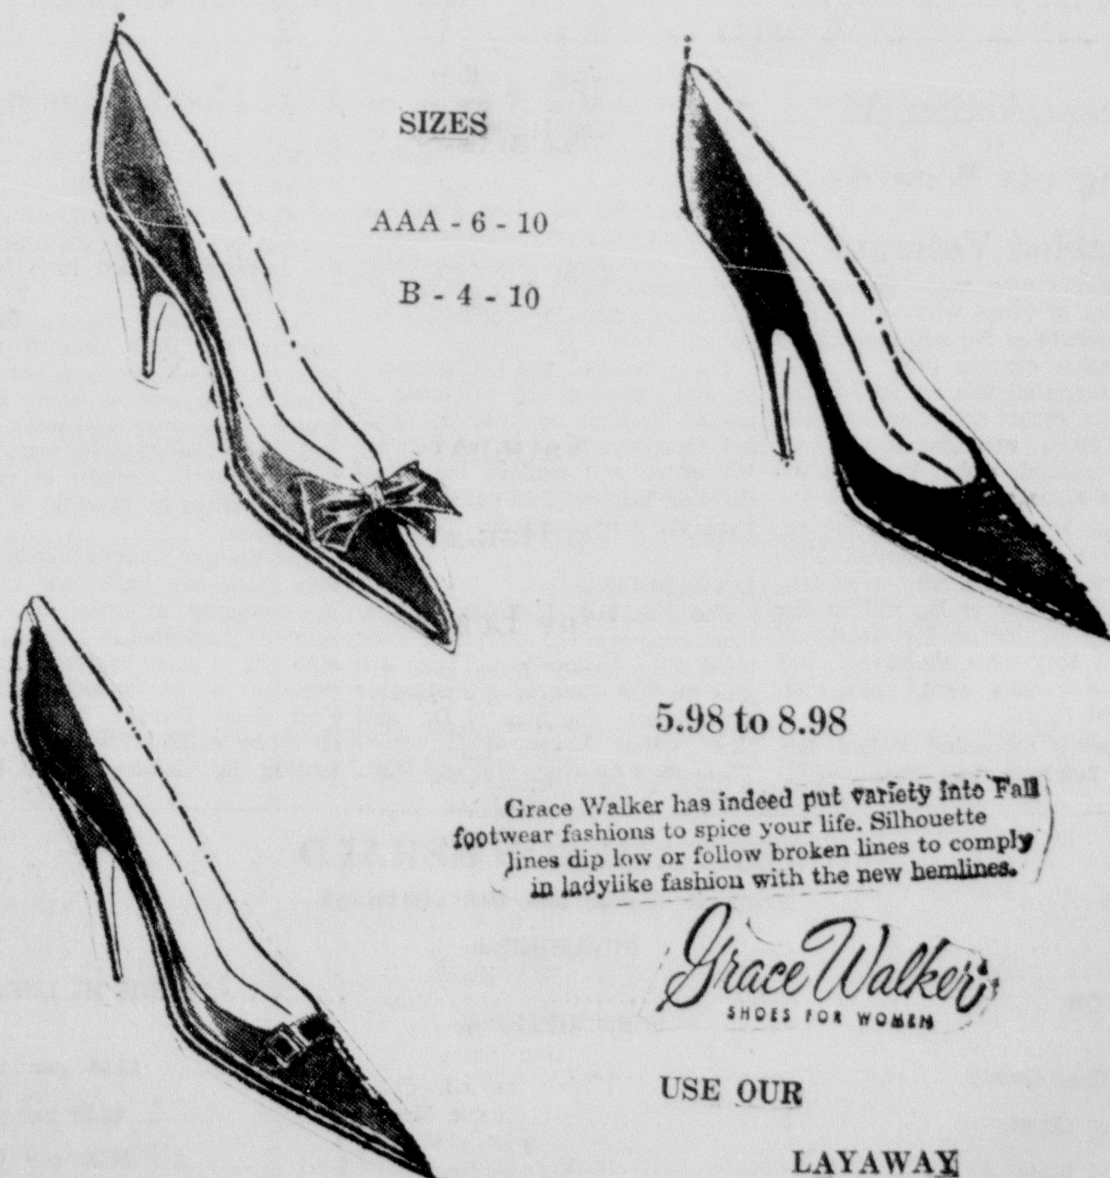

In some areas where the grain sorghum harvest has been underway, doves seem to be fairly plentiful. Waterhole shooting, however, has been very skimpy.

According to reports from Oklahoma, dove shooting there has been very good. It is expected that with a change in weather conditions, many of these doves will be moving on south.

Carla's Timetable Makes History

Cameronites were like most Texans last Friday. They read their daily papers and watched television weathercasts on the progress of Hurricane Carla.

By Sunday, hundreds of Cameron's 5,640 residents joined in housing and feeding some 1,500 of Carla's half million refugees.

Carla was about 500 miles at sea in the Gulf of Mexico 10 p. m. Friday. Gulf Coast residents from Corpus Christi to New Orleans abandoned their homes and jobs for "higher ground" Saturday.

Saturday morning, Carla was heading at 10 m. p. h. for the Galveston - Port Arthur area. That afternoon Gov. Price Daniel alerted the Texas National Guard including Milam's Company C, Third Medium Tank Battalion, for emergency duty.

The Cameron - based unit got the word late Saturday night. The first refugees reached Cameron that evening.

Meanwhile Carla was churning toward the Gulf Coast tossing higher waves on the shores and breaking.

County Judge Don G. Humble began emergency activities Sunday in his job as Civil Defense Director. Mayor Coleman Duncum alerted City employees while members of Company C were on 24-hour duty.

Hundred mile - per - hour winds lashed the Coast Sunday. Most of the potential disaster cities were abandoned.

Monday the hurricane hit the Coast. Water washed freely on Gulf city streets; torrential rains whipped South Texas crops for tens of millions of damage.

Cameron like hundred of Central and East Texas communities, became the haven for Carla's refugees.

Heavy rains started Monday afternoon, blown in by the force of Carla. High winds, at first about 40 m. p. h. whipped at Cameron and Milam County trees. Tuesday morning, heavy rains continued.

Getting Goods To Market . . .

Someone of considerable stature has finally focused modern eyes on the real plague of a shrinking world . . . distribution.

Walter Hoving, chairman of the Tiffany & Co. and author of "The Distribution Revolution", tells of the problems of economic systems without proper means of distribution.

He finds that economic depression and recession, all too common in an industrialized, mass - production society, are deepened by failure of getting finished goods to the consumer.

This he says, is not understood by the Russians or the Red Chinese, whose press for growth is limited by their means to transport their stuff to consumers.

Hoving says that socialists and communists, starting with Marx, blamed old-time capitalism for the ills of society. Change the social system, do away with private ownership and management, said Marx, and all the problems will be solved.

Will they? Hoving is quick to point out that Russia, with 40 years of socialism behind her, still has not realized the potential of admittedly major industrial gains. Her problem, like that of China, is no sound means of distribution.

Evidence points to socialism's failure, not success in developing industrial mass production.

The Tiffany board chairman says that mass production sometimes overproduces, beyond available consumer need. Stockpiles of goods go unused. But a continent away, those same goods are in tremendous demand. The distribution mechanism in backward countries, those without trade balance, breaks down.

Hoving says that new nations seem to approach socialism as the first vehicle to solve their economic and social ills. In every case, he continues, governments have been able to develop mass production, but unable to create efficient distribution to care for it. This is the same special field of private enterprise.

Why? We quote: "Distribution is an intricate process with many interrelated factors in every one of which resourcefulness, responsibility and personal competence are of the essence. None of these things can operate effectively under bureaucratic control."

Focus on distribution of goods is long overdue. There is little justification, for instance, to become super efficient in agriculture, then reduce production and store the surplus. The problem is not in the production. It is in the distribution. How many people will starve to death in the world today? Tens of thousands! How much surplus is there in the U. S.? Billions of dollars worth!

Of course, the step beyond solving distribution problems is the problem of exchange. But exchange can only occur when a bargain is struck and goods change hands.

Hoving's book strikes at the heart of the problem.

Draft Obligation Is Big Question

AUSTIN — Since President Kennedy's announcement of increased draft calls, some men who have no legal obligation for draft registration or military service have been corresponding with Texas draft boards about their "obligation."

If you were born after August 30, 1922, you are not registered with a draft board and you have no legal obligation to register. Furthermore, you have no responsibility to keep a draft board advised of your current address. If you were born after August 30, 1922 you are legally required to be registered unless you are not yet 18 years old.

If you are registered and have reached the age of 35, you are no longer liable for military service under present law but you are still obligated to keep your local board advised of your current address.

Some men are no longer liable at ages 26 and 28. At these three ages, where a man is no longer liable for service, he is classified V-A, and the little classification notice he is required to carry in his pocket is so marked.

An increasing number of people are asking draft boards for the meaning of the Selective Service classification. These follow:

I-A: Available for military service.

I-A-O: Conscientious objector available for non-combatant military service.

I-C: Member of the armed forces, Coast and Geodetic Survey, or Public Health Service.

I-D: Qualified member of the armed forces reserve, or student taking military training, including ROTC and accepted aviation cadet applicants.

I-O: Conscientious objector available for civilian work contributing to maintenance of the national health, safety or interest. I-S: Student deferred by law until graduation from high school or attainment of age 20, or until the end of his academic year at a college or university.

I-W: Conscientious objector performing civilian work in the national interest, or who has completed such work.

II-A: Occupational deferment other than agricultural and student.

II-C: Agricultural deferment.

II-S: Student deferment.

III-A: Extreme hardship deferment, or a man with child or children. Any man who prior to August 25, 1953, had a child or children and lived with them in his home and so advised his board is eligible for Class III-A. Any man who acquired a child or children on or since August 25, 1953, is not eligible for Class III-A because of them unless military service would result in extreme hardship to them or certain other dependents.

IV-A: A man with sufficient prior active service, or who is a sole surviving son of a family of which one or more sons or daughters already have died in line of duty in the armed forces.

IV-B: Certain public officials deferred by law.

IV-C: Deferment of certain aliens.

IV-D: Minister of religion or divinity student.

IV-F: Physically or mentally unfit or morally unacceptable.

V-A: Over the age of liability for military service. If a man receives certain deferments resulting in classification in Classes

I-D, I-S, II-A, II-C, II-S, III-A, IV-B, and IV-F before he is 26 years old, his liability for military service will be extended from age 26 to ages 28 or 35, depending upon the deferment received.

Local Teenager Finds Rings 'Hard To Get Rid Of'

Becky Graham, 14-year-old Yoe High School freshman, has been engaged, married and then cut the whole thing off.

Or so it appeared last week. This peculiar array of facts started when Becky decided to try on her mother's engagement and wedding rings. (Just to see if they fit). She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Graham of 304 East 12th St., Cameron.

After trying on the rings, Miss Graham proceeded to remove them from her finger, only to discover they wouldn't budge.

After a week of soaping, greasing, pulling on Becky's swollen finger, and the use of every other home-made ring - getting - off remedy, the Graham's carried her to Waco where a jeweler cut the rings off. Becky's only comment, "Oh, but wasn't it fun."

911 Listed For October Call

AUSTIN — The state draft quota for October calls for 911 men, 201 less than for September. Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

The September call, previously announced, was 1,112, while the August quota was 561.

The October quota of 911 for Texas is the state's share of a national call of 20,000 all for the Army. The September national quota was 25,000 which also was for the Army.

Colonel Schwartz also announced that 6,002 men would be given pre-induction examinations in October compared to 5,004 scheduled in September.

Local board quotas for induction and pre - induction examination in October are scheduled to be mailed by state Selective Service headquarters, Friday.

The October quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on October 1, with the exception of volunteers, or those whom the law terms delinquent who may be younger.

Monthly draft calls in Texas this year have ranged from 292 down to zero prior to August. Monthly examination quotas prior to August ranged from none to 2,255.

Fallout Under Close Scrutiny

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Radioactive fallout is under close scrutiny at Texas' two testing stations in Austin and El Paso.

Resumption of nuclear testing by the Soviet Union brought on the 24 - hour - a - day shift atop the State Health Department building in Austin where sampling devices, working like vacuum cleaners, pull jet streams of air through a filter to measure fallout.

During the four year nuclear test ban, radioactivity got progressively lower. Before the tests were stopped, engineers said it was 50 to 100 times higher. They expect results of Russian shots to begin showing up here within the next few days.

Meanwhile, Gov. Price Daniel announced a survey is being launched in Texas to make fallout shelter space available over the state. He said Col. R. Paul West of the U. S. Army Engineers at Fort Worth, who has been assigned to survey, will work in coordination with the State Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Division and local civil defense officials.

POULTRY INDUSTRY IN TROUBLE

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White organized a conference of southern Agriculture Commissioners in Atlanta, Ga., to "seek ways and means to help save the poultry industry."

White said they will attempt to find ways to relieve the current "disastrous poultry prices" which are at the lowest point in the history of commercial broiler production.

"This is not just a local situation in Texas," White said. "The entire national broiler industry is suffering from a price depression."

He reported poultry prices dropped in the past week to as low as 10.5 cents per pound, or as much as five cents below cost for many producers.

Meanwhile, the Attorney General's Department is studying the record of a special court of inquiry to determine if anti - trust violations are involved in the price decline.

Witnesses testified the trouble is overproduction. Actually the overproduction is not in Texas but in the 21 other broiler producing states.

Phil Friberg, manager of the Western Hatcheries in Gonzales, said 50 per cent of Texas' broiler producers will be out of business if something doesn't happen.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson wants to determine if "there is any effort to price the Texas poultry producer out of business."

PADRE ISLAND STUDY ORDERED

Governor Daniel has taken up

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler's recommendation that a feasibility study be made to determine whether Padre Island beaches should be turned into a state park area.

Sadler said the Governor agreed to appoint a statewide committee with instructions to report quickly. The long, slender island, a potential playground paradise, has been the center of controversy since it was proposed that a large portion of it be turned over to the federal government for a national park area.

LOAN COMPANIES CLEARED

A civil anti - trust suit alleging 31 loan companies conspired to push punitive small loan laws through the Texas Legislature has been dismissed by Federal Judge Ben Rice Jr. in Austin.

Suit, filed by J. L. House Jr. who operates a small loan business in Waco and other cities, charged that large Texas and out - of - state loan companies conspired to secure enactment of laws that would "destroy the small loan business of the plaintiff and all others similarly situated."

Judge Rice held the allegations did not show sufficient cause against the defendant companies to warrant a court trial.

OIL PRICES HIT

Governor Daniel joined independent producers in pleas for action to stem the tide of falling Texas crude oil prices.

"In view of rising equipment and operating costs, crude purchasers should be thinking of some price increase," he said. "Domestic crude oil is long overdue for more realistic prices if needed exploration is to be stimulated. Lower prices, combined with a stringent law allowable pattern in Texas, will continue to aggravate the problem of the domestic oil producing industry. This, together with excessive foreign oil imports, some of them by the price - cutting companies, will hamstring the domestic industry and the producing states."

"I hope these and other purchasers will consider the plight of the domestic industry in their future actions," he concluded.

Cameron Does Its Part . .

Cameron said welcome this weekend to hundreds of refugees from Hurricane Carla in a successful community effort.

Literally hundreds of Gulf Coast residents found respite here from the heralded disaster in food, lodging and other emergency assistance.

Starting Saturday, thousands of vehicles streamed through Cameron, most of them continuing their flight to the north, many hundreds stopping at the National Guard Armory where relief activities began.

Dozens of Cameron homes were opened to refugees overnight. Hundreds of people filled available rooms in Cameron motels and hotels. About 150 people stayed at the Guard Armory, sleeping on Army cots and bunks donated by Cameron citizens. Food was served to many of the people.

Milam County's Civil Defense machinery, untested before the weekend, turned quickly to the task of anticipating the worst and meeting immediate needs.

Milam's Company C, Third Medium Tank Battalion was on round - the - clock duty, setting up cots, feeding visitors and directing the heavy flow of traffic Sunday. They stood by awaiting orders to enter the disaster area when Carla dissipated her destruction on Coast cities.

Cameron police worked long and hard at finding places for refugees to stay. Churches opened their doors to assist where needed.

And the city responded to the first major mass evacuation in the history of the United States.

This scene was re-enacted in hundreds of other Texas cities and communities. Rosebud and Rockdale also gave assistance in the Milam area. Temple, Waco and Belton took in thousands of people to the north and west.

Refugees told the Herald they had never had such hospitality. Indeed, they were welcomed.

There was much order. There was organization. Cameron was doing its part.

News Fit For Pessimists .

If a pessimist was looking for new sources for his art, he found them in the news over the weekend.

Besides the holocaust of Hurricane Carla, there were Russia's two additional hydrogen blasts in Asia.

But sturdy Texas communities by the hundreds, Cameron among them, took on the shock wave of a quarter of a million refugees in an evacuation without precedent. By Monday, no one had lost his life to Carla, a miracle and a tribute to the combined efforts of government and individual initiative in meeting the problem head on.

It was a pessimist's weekend.

Recent Action Of Congress Benefits Disabled Veterans

Veterans who were disabled or survivors of those who were killed in accidents on the way home from separation centers prior to 1937 were made eligible for certain benefits by recent action of Congress.

P. J. Mims, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said today.

These benefits have always existed for veterans separated after December 31, 1956 who were considered by law to be still in the military service until midnight of the day they were discharged, and in some cases even until they reached home.

Veterans separated before this date, however, had been considered to be civilians as they traveled homeward and thus an accident resulting in disability or death was not considered service-connected.

Through the new law, Congress has made veterans, disabled before 1957 in such travel, or dependents of veterans, killed in such travel, eligible for service - connected benefits.

These benefits are not automatic, Mims pointed out, but must be sought through application. Contact representatives at the nearest VA office will explain the benefits and help eligible persons prepare their applications.

Fort Hood Housing Problem Serious

FORT HOOD — As more personnel at Fort Hood seek off - post housing in nearby communities, the housing situation here is becoming critical.

The Fort Hood Visitors Bureau reports that their lists of available off - post housing are very short at the present time. Anticipated manpower increases here will make the situation worse and the Bureau is anxious to get as many listings as possible to meet the influx.

The Bureau accepts housing listings from any individual or realty company in order to assist military personnel in locating suitable off - post housing. Anyone desiring to list housing with the Fort Hood Visitors Bureau may do so by calling OV 5-6919 or by writing the Visitors at Fort Hood.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Finds He's An Expert On How To Help Congressmen Escape Backaches

Dear editor:

People are always looking to Washington for advice and information, but occasionally Washington ought to look out in the country for advice and information for itself.

For example, I was sitting under a tree on this Johnson grass farm the other afternoon, just stretching my legs and resting my back and since I figured I could still do that and read a newspaper at the same time, I pulled out a paper and started reading.

What startled me was an article saying a Washington doctor has been advising Congressmen and other officials on how to take care of themselves, to keep from developing backaches and general muscular strains. In the first place, this doctor said, "a too - high chair will cause pressure on certain blood vessels in the thigh and may lead to severe cramps in the calf, initiating a painful muscle spasm sometimes with far - reaching consequences."

I have known this for years. If you get the right sort of chair, I have found, you can sit in it for long periods of time without any ill - effects. I've tried it and I know. It never occurred to me that Washington didn't know this, and I would have been glad to supply the information.

And also, the doctor said, muscle cramps may be caused by "holding a telephone for long periods in a poor position, by driving a car in positions that impose strain, or by bending over books for prolonged periods."

Now while I have never been injured by holding a phone for a long period of time, but have seen women get by with it, I'm not disputing this medical advice and I recommend it to a number of women around here I don't have the nerve to name. I's a dangerous practice and ought to be stopped. I do know though that driving a tractor, which is similar to driving a car, probably can cause severe backache, although I've never explored this fully. There are some things a man ought to know are dangerous without demonstrating it with his own back.

As for bending over reading, maybe Congressmen haven't found out this is bad, but I learned long ago you can read just as well sitting in a rocking chair with your feet propped up as you can bending over a desk and while I don't know what medical opinion Washington has on sitting on the ground under a tree, I've found that if a man trains himself and steels himself for the job, it can be done.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

How many times have you caught an unusually large fish, or bagged a limit of greenhead mallards or dropped a 12 - point buck?

Not very often - most likely. But these catches, or kills, are events that linger long in your memory.

They are also news - the kind of news that your local newspaper wants to publish. Unfortunately your newspaper may never hear of your feats unless you, or a friend advise them.

Chances are your newspaper will publish a picture of your catch or your bag of game if the photo is suitable for reproduction.

With just a little effort you can take pictures that the editor wants. You don't have to be a master photographer to do it. But there are a few simple rules you must follow.

For ideas on how to plan and take printable fish and game pictures, thumb through some of the national hunting and fishing magazines. You'll note that the pictures usually are closeups with good lighting and with backgrounds that don't detract from the main subject.

Suppose you catch an eight - pound bass. That's certainly a newsworthy feat, meriting both story and picture. If you have your camera along and you should on every outing, have a friend snap the picture of you as you admire the fish - preferably while you're in the boat or near the water.

By holding the fish at chest or eye level and having your friend snap the photo from a low angle, you'll get the sky in the background. That way you automatically eliminate cluttered backgrounds and objects that detract from the subject matter. If you're lucky enough to have beautiful clouds in the sky - so much the better.

When your friend snaps the picture, however, be sure to look at and admire your fish. A picture like that is of great value than one of you looking right into the camera lens. After all, the fish is the center of interest.

You could snap the same picture at home, but consider for a moment how a background of the garage door or the front porch detracts from the photo.

How about photographing that big buck?

Shoot such a photo on location. Suspend your deer from a tree. Drape it across the hood of your car, or the tailgate of your station wagon.

Again good lighting is a must. If the deer is suspended from a tree, be sure there are no confusing limbs or bushes in the scene, to give a poor background effect. The hunter's car is always a good prop if for no other reason than the fact that you can move it into the sunlight for better illumination of the subject. A flashgun on the camera of course eliminates the need for sunlight.

One cardinal point about big game pictures. Don't use "blood and guts" stuff.

If your deer, bear, or whatever animal it may be has been gutted, swing the body around so that the gutted underside won't show in the picture. Most newspapers frown on "blood and guts" pictures even if the animal is of record size.

Chances are you'll have your film developed and printed at the corner drug store or the local photo supply. That means that your prints will come back considerably smaller than postcard size.

Pick out the best negative and have it enlarged to at least a 5x7 size.

A 5x7 glossy print will cost you about 50 cents. Glossies make better cuts than do the full - finished photos. The newspaper will return the print to you if you request it.

Most photographers take extra precautions when they carry their cameras into the field or out on the water.

Moisture will damage a camera fast. Either carry your camera in a leather case or wrap it in a plastic bag. When you're afloat it's wise to put camera, case, film and all in a plastic bag. You can pick up a lot of damaging spray while outboating across a choppy lake or bay.

This is equally important with your film. In fact I recommend that you carry the film in an insulated plastic bag if possible. And be sure to store it in a cool place. Heat will quickly destroy film so don't allow the sun to beat down on your camera or the camera bag. Above all don't keep the camera above the dash. It's also unwise to store it in the glove compartment. Coolest spot, ordinarily, is the floor of your car. Heat rises, you know.

Exercise the same precautions against dust, while in the field or on the road.

You might use only one roll of film on a trip, but play it safe and carry a few extras. You never know when you can catch the unexpected on film. And that sudden shot just might be recording a once - in - a - life time event. ever.

You don't need an expensive ca mera for your outdoor snapshots. Nor a bag full of gadgets. They are for the photographer who makes his living taking saleable photos. You can get acceptable results with an inexpensive camera just by taking your time and using care.

Keep this thought in mind when taking pictures. Don't just snap one and let it go at that. Film is cheap. Shoot several shots from many different angles. Second or third shot very likely will be far superior to the first one you snap.

After you catch that big fish, or drop that deer, the incident is just a memory. With camera and film you can record it for a lifetime and keep that memory alive.

Besides that - it's fun to take pictures.

BRUCellosis DRIVE

Progress Noted In Development Of Rural Areas

COLLEGE STATION — Real progress is being made under the Rural Areas Development Program, states Dr. E. Patterson, dean of agriculture, Texas A & M College and chairman of the State Resource Development Committee. Long range Overall Economic Development Programs have been developed by local leaders in Houston, Morris and Red River counties and the Deep East Texas Development Association has submitted an area program which includes Angeline, Newton, Sabine, San Augustine and Shelby counties.

The programs from these sources have been reviewed by members of the State Committee, State Technical Panel and have been approved by the governor's approving agency — Texas Employment Commission. They have been sent to the USDA's Office of Rural Areas Development, Washington, D. C. also for review and approval, the state chairman said.

Local leaders, in developing long range programs, emphasized the importance of balancing agricultural with community and industrial development, Dr. Patterson said. Their plans describe what local leaders would like their economy to be in the next 5 to 10 years and what is needed to achieve these objectives.

Dr. Patterson reminded that 47 Texas counties have been designated as eligible to receive financial assistance under the Area Redevelopment Act (P. L. 87-27) which is administered by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Specific project proposals have been submitted by several of the eligible counties, Dr. Patterson said. They include requests for loans and grants for water systems, sewerage plants, street improvement, expansion of existing industries, development of industrial parks and recreational and health facilities.

The Cameron Herald

Yard Accidents Toll High Mark

The amateur gardener is exposed to many hazards and must exercise constant care when using yard tools and equipment, Lone Star Gas Company Manager C. M. Burke cautioned today.

Lone Star and The Cameron Herald are co-sponsors of the 1961 Home Safety Program in Cameron.

Almost 12 per cent of all home accident fatalities occur in the yard, according to a survey reported by the Kansas Board of Health and the Nassau County, N. Y., Health Department.

Of the total deaths 5.6 per cent were caused by falls; 1.6 per cent by exposure to fire; 1.3 per cent by suffocation; and 3.1 per cent by miscellaneous causes.

Principal dangers are careless handling of rakes, hoes and careless use of the power lawnmower. Turn hoes, rakes, etc. downward when momentarily laid aside and store properly when not in use. Observe these safety rules when operating the power mower:

1. Avoid using an electric mower when the ground is wet. You may cause a short circuit or slip on the damp grass and fall against the blades.
2. Before using, clean lawn of stones, wires, and other articles that the mower may catch and throw into the air. If an object discharged by a mower strikes you or a bystander, it may cause serious injury.
3. Be sure that children and pets are at a safe distance when you are using the mower.
4. Be sure of your footing and balance when you are operating the mower on an incline. Downhill mowing is especially dangerous.

5. To push the mower over obstructions, tip it by manipulating the handle rather than by reaching under the mower.

6. Stop the engine before removing objects from reel or rotary blades.

7. Disconnect plug wires when you are working on the underside of the mower.

8. Store fuel in a closed metal container and keep it out of the reach of small children.

9. Shut off mower before leaving the mower unattended.

10. Keep flame away from the mower while refueling.

Cotton Rated In Top Quality In Texas Gin Centers

Cotton ginned in Texas through August 31 averaged higher in grade and longer in staple than that ginned during the same period a year ago, according to the United States Department of Agriculture quality report. During August weather conditions, while not entirely favorable over the entire Area, were improved over July. Ginning is getting under way in all sections.

The grade index through August 31 was 96.1 (Middling White equals 100) and compared with 95.9 a year ago. Excess moisture and heavy insect damage in July no doubt increase the proportion of colored cotton this season. The percentage of Strict Middling and higher in the White grades accounted for 7 per cent of the ginnings with 30 per cent last season. The proportion of ginnings in the White grades below Middling was 31 per cent with 24 per cent classed as Strict Low Middling and compared with 18 per cent for the same period last season. The Light Spotted grades accounted for 28 percent of the ginnings, double the amount a year ago. Middling was the predominant Light Spotted grade with 16 per cent. There was a slight increase in Light Gray cotton with 5 per cent compared with 4 per cent last year.

The average staple length of cotton ginned this season was 32.6 thirty-seconds of an inch, slightly longer than the 32.4 thirty-seconds last year. Staple lengths shorter than 15-16" amounted to less than .5 per cent compared with 1 per cent a year ago. The proportion of cotton stapling 15-16" through 1" was 40 per cent and compared with 46 per cent last year. The amount of staple lengths longer than 1" increased this year with 60 per cent and compared with 53 per cent last season.

Cotton tenderable on futures contracts amounted to 90 per cent of the ginnings compared with 81 per cent last season.

The Crop Reporting Board estimated the United States crop this season at 14,262,000 bales. The Texas crop is estimated at 4,600,000 bales and the Oklahoma crop at 440,000 bales. Ginnings of upland cotton in Texas through August 31 this season amounted to 652,229 bales compared with 605,163 bales a year ago, according to the Bureau of the Census.

TEXAS LAWYERS

Capt. James Abijah Brooks

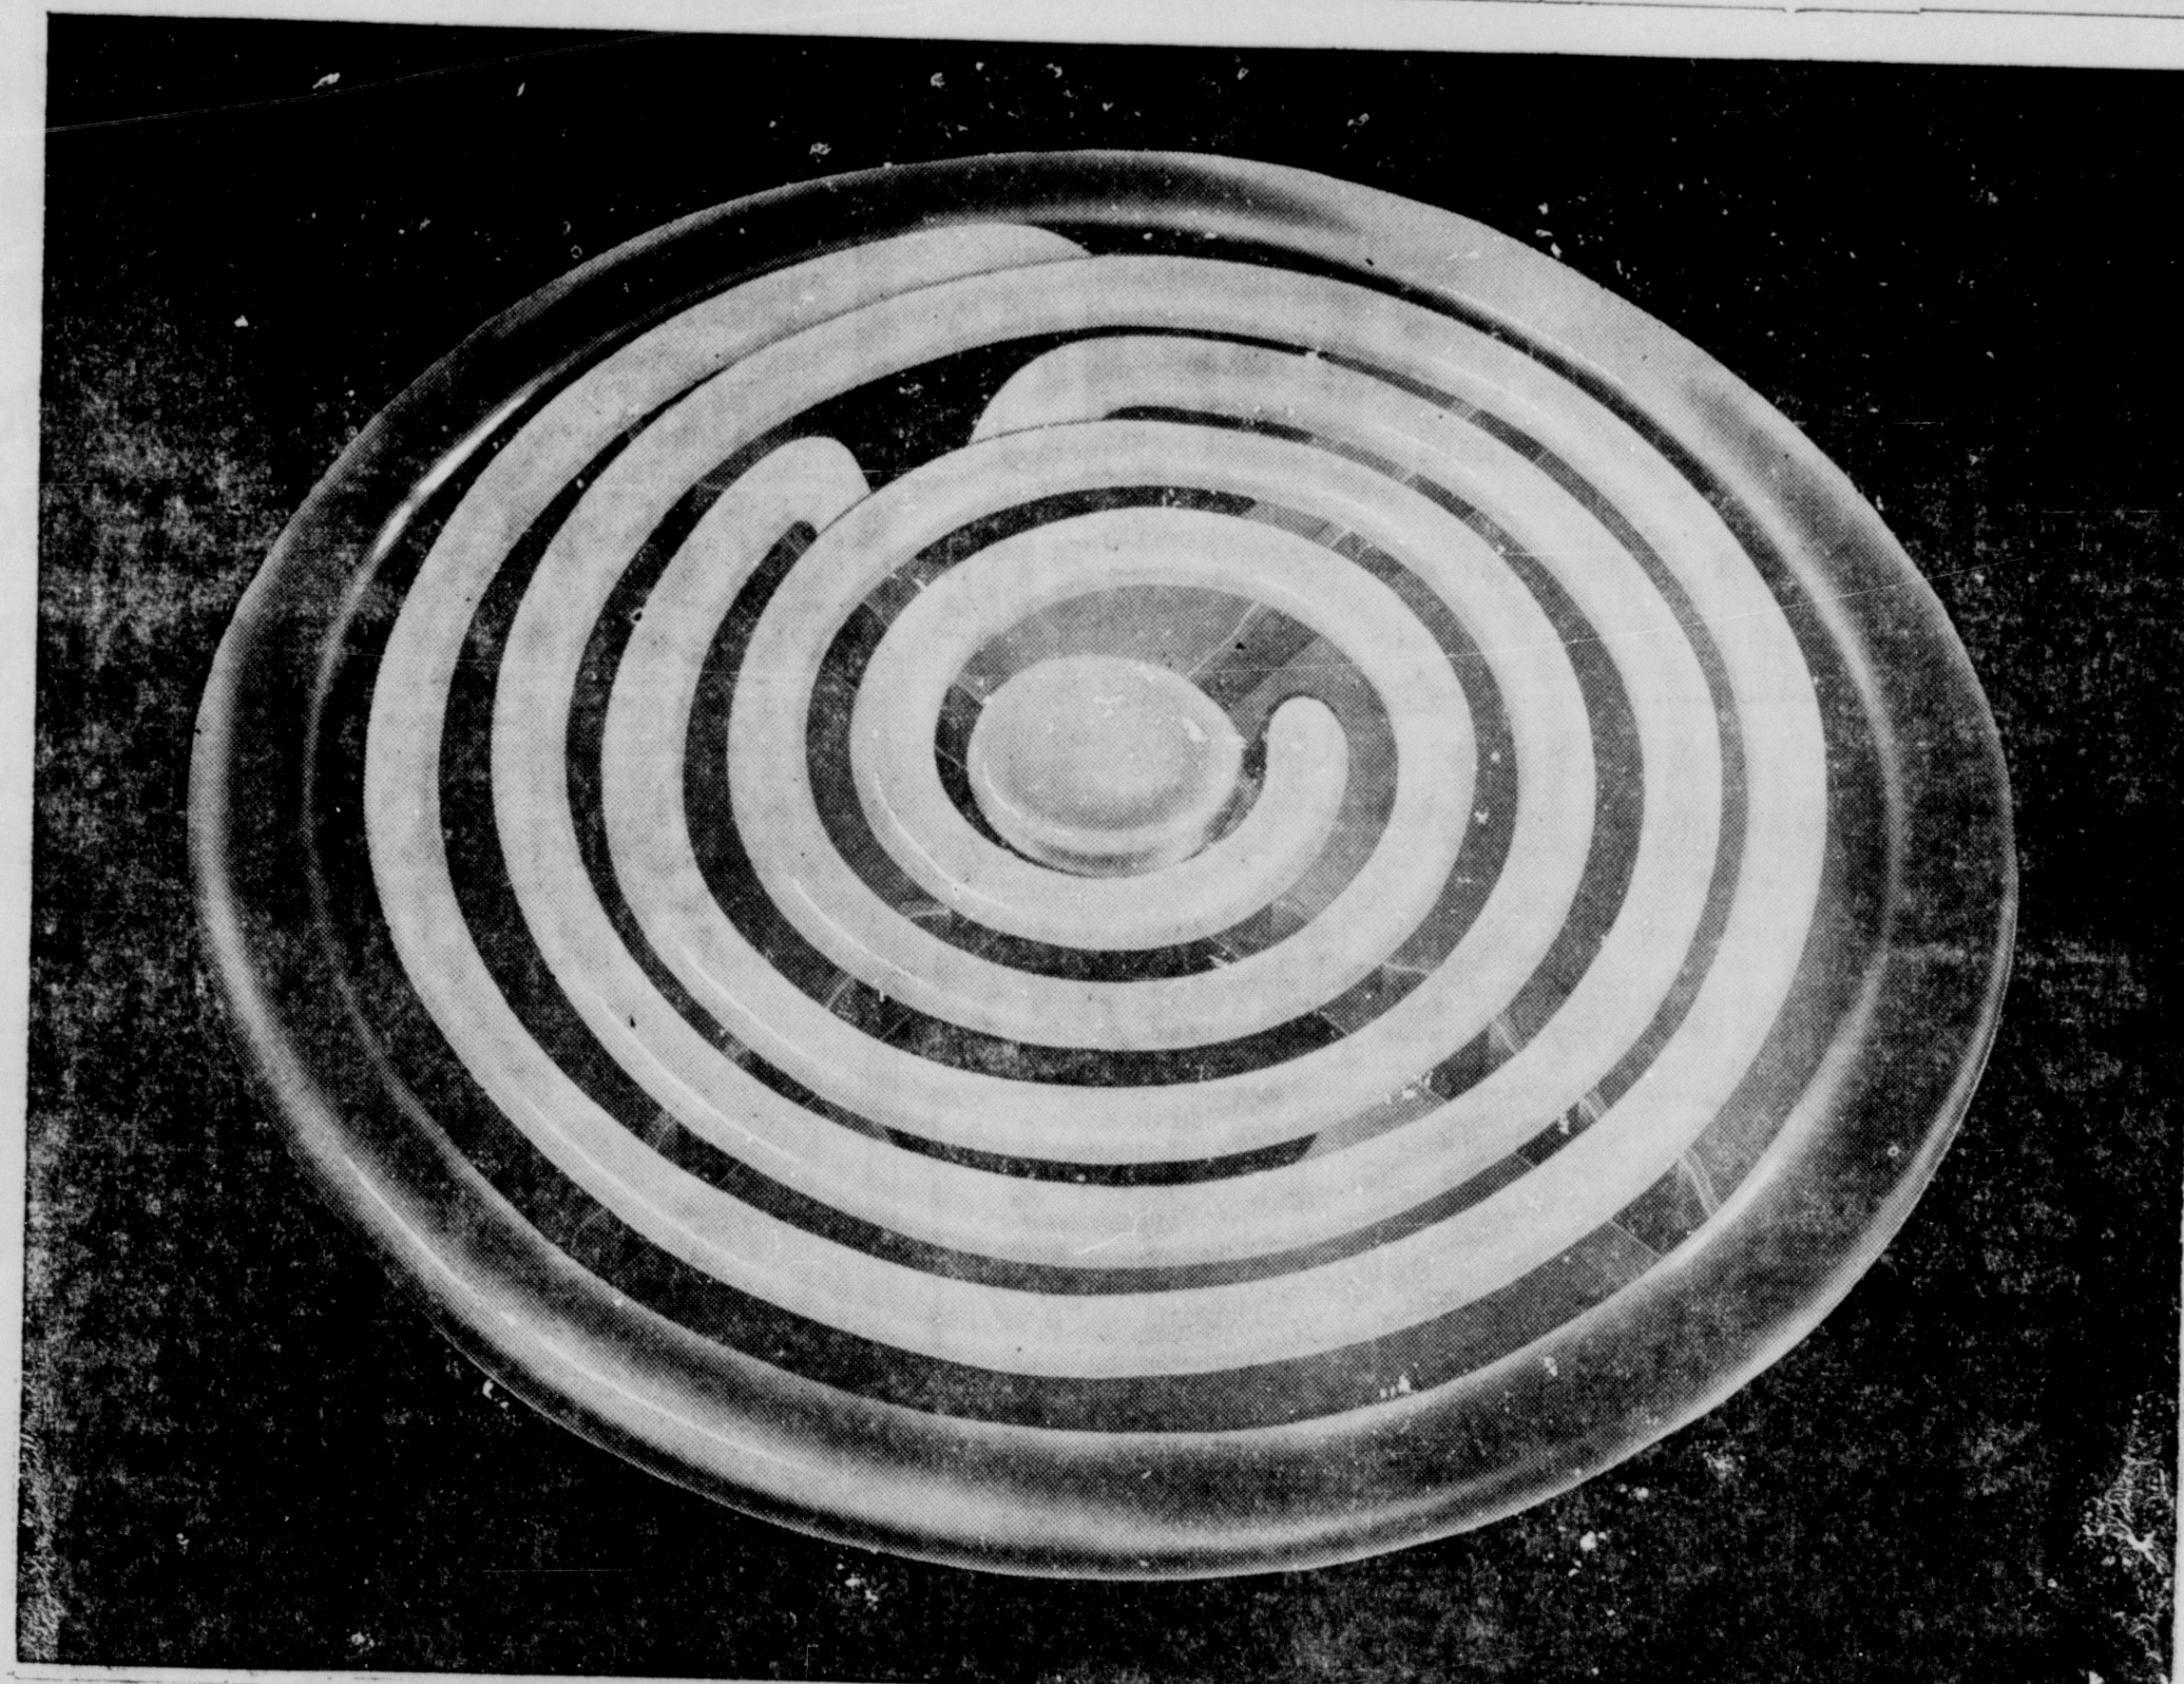

Ranger

"... got him and I chained him up..."

Batton, Texas, was a hot spot with a 3-way struggle involving stockmen, oilfield workers and the local law. A wild gas well had been fired to stop the destruction of cattle. Tempers flared, guns fired... then a killing. So a Ranger, Captain James A. Brooks, was sent in to calm things down. He reported considerable turbulence, and headquarters offered reinforcements. Captain Brooks' brief and only acknowledgment: "Got the killer and I chained him up." Brooks had been a rancher and trail driver until 1882, when he joined the Rangers for almost a quarter century of active service. Very active... such as, in 1896, rearranging the planned prizefight between Bob Fitzsimmons and Pete Maher in El Paso, and dealing misery to the cattle thieves who plagued the King Ranch in 1902. In later years Brooks added to his stature in the State Legislature and as County Judge of Brooks County, named for him.

The lawman has always needed courage and good judgment to keep the peace. We need that, too, to keep our good life and liberty. When an industry provides employment and enjoyment for so many, it "belongs." In Texas, "Beer Belongs." The United States Brewers Association is constantly at work, with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly and law-abiding conditions.
